MADRID BOMBED IN NEW RAID

Here and There

Editorial By ALEX. H. WASHBURN

OVER in Arkansas county they believe the phrase "as sure as death and taxes" still means something. The finance committee of the Arkansas County Quorum Court adopted the following resolution (the Stuttgart Leader published it as page one news):

U.S. Amendment on Labor Is Proposed by Sen. Robinson

No Real Authority Today to Regulate Working Hours and Wages

CHOICE OF COURSES

This Congress Will Move Either for Federal or State Authority

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The idea of amending the constitution leaped suddenly to the forefront of congressional topic over the week-end when Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, said it was the "best method" to handle the wage and hour problem.

The Arkansas senator, back for the congressional opening Tuesday, dictated to reporters a declaration that Supreme Court decisions holding that neither the federal nor state governments had "power to prescribe maximum hours and minimum wages" has created "a very unsatisfactory condition." He asserted the power should be given of the states or congress and predicted that the issue would be "settled at this session."

He was careful, however, not to close the door to attempts to meet the hour and wage problem through legislation. Several proposals for dealing with the issue without an amendment are pending that are worthy of study, he said.

Discusses Many Issues

Senator Robinson discussed a host of issues, noting such a volume of them that he forecast a long session. Some of his statements, in brief, were that:

He, personally, would like to see a modification of the tax on corporation surplus to encourage "investments in new enterprise" and "perhaps" to aid heavily debt-ridden corporations; but he does "not look for any important revision" of the tax laws at this session.

A "decisive" reduction in the number of federal employees, "particularly relief workers," should be made in the "early future" but federal aid should be continued if industry fails to re-absorb the workers.

A completely balanced budget is not to be expected in the next fiscal year, but he is "hopeful" that this may be accomplished within two years.

Except for expiring laws, there is "no occasion for haste" in legislating this time. Measures will be advanced during the session to change the Social Security Act, strengthen neutrality

A THOUGHT

Law and equity are two things that God hath joined together, but which man has put asunder. —Colton.

Prohibit Liquor Advertising in State Proposed

Logan County Representative Seeks Change in Present Law

LOCAL OPTION BILL

New Measure Would Require Only 15% of Signatures for Election

BOONEVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Rev. Lee Nichols of Booneville, representative from Logan county, has announced completion of a bill to amend the Thorn liquor law to "discourage the consumption of liquor."

"Whereas, it is nothing more than right that all persons sharing the benefits of County government should bear their proportionate part of the cost of said benefits, and,

"Whereas, the law provides the method for collecting the said delinquent taxes, and the increased cost of County government makes it necessary that every effort be made to collect said taxes,

"Now therefore, it is the sense of the Legislature of Arkansas County, that the Collector of Arkansas County be and he is hereby directed to proceed to collect the said delinquent personal taxes without fear or favor to any person delinquent, and to that end it is the request of this body that he place one Deputy Sheriff upon the collection of collecting the said taxes until the same are collected, and he is hereby authorized to call upon the Prosecuting Attorney and his Deputies in order to enforce collection if necessary."

Personal tax delinquency in Arkansas county totals $2,504—and Arkansas county means to collect it.

Over here in Hempstead county we have a delinquency of approximately $5,500—of which the public schools share alone is more than $3,000.

The itemized list of delinquencies, published twice in this newspaper last month, shows an average debt of only $3 per taxpayer.

Justice in behalf of those who have already paid demands that the county collect every penny of the unpaid balance.

Surveying the general condition of the people today as compared with a few years ago, the county government may shrewdly judge that if it doesn't get this $3 someone else will. And whatever happens to other delinquents in credit no wise government is going to allow its tax money to be charged off as a bad debt. Collection of taxes, promptly, and in full, is the foundation of good management—and without it the financial crisis confronting Hempstead county will never be solved.

Turned Brown By Brown Turner

WASHINGTON, D. C.—So many congressmen in town these days they've had to hire more policemen, or at least it looks that way. They'll all hang up at the capitol Tuesday so's to get their names on the payroll, and since they've run out of pardons you won't hear from many of them unless they get arrested for speeding or blocking the sidewalks. But they're all right, as most of them are Democrats and don't believe in working more than five days a week, and if the Supreme Court wasn't so contrary sometimes not telling what sort of laws we'd get, whether we wanted them or not. Wanted to stay here a week, but I eat too much.

Mattson Family in Contact With Kidnapers, Belief

Classified Ad Says Family Will Follow Orders of Abductor

PATH IS CLEARED

Kidnaped Youth Is Reported Seen by Washington Farmer

TACOMA, Wash.—(AP)—A new classified advertisement indicating that Dr. W. M. Mattson has established contact with the kidnaper of his son, Charles, appeared Monday in the Seattle Daily Times.

The advertisement read: "Mabel, we have received your communications. Police have not intercepted them. Channels are entirely clear. Your instruction will be followed. We are ready—Ann."

By automobile, plane, and boat hundreds of officers searched an isolated area near Shelton, Washington, Monday for two men wanted for questioning in the kidnapping.

Boy Reported Seen

SEATTLE, Wash.—(AP)—State patrol headquarters reported Sunday night a farmer, C. M. Benson, living two miles west of Bothell had seen two men and a boy he said closely resembled kidnapped Charles Mattson, in an automobile shortly after noon Sunday on the Bothell-Seattle highway.

"The boy was sitting between the men," Benson told police. "He was eating a sandwich held in his left hand. I am positive it was the kidnapped boy," Benson said. The automobile was mud-spattered.

Message For Father

Bothell is 15 miles north of Seattle. Shelton, Wash., where the men Sunday night ordered a mill watchman to telephone Dr. W. M. Mattson, the boy's father, "everything is well," is 85 miles southwest of here.

G. R. Grubbe, watchman at the Reed lumber mill at Shelton reported to Sheriff Gerald E. Byrne that two men in a coupe drove into a "no parking" zone on his property and that when he went to order them away one jumped from the car, hands thrust in his pockets as though carrying guns, and ordered Grubbe back into the mill office.

"Get back in there," Grubbe quoted the man. "And tell Dr. (W. W.) Mattson personally everything is well."

After this order, Grubbe said, the man got back into the automobile and drove away swiftly.

Chief William Cole of the State Police broadcast a warning to officers through western Washington watch for the automobile. All roads were being blocked off by sheriffs and police.

Opportunities for occupants of the car to hide were innumerable in Mason and adjacent counties. The rugged Olympic mountains are not far off and Hood canal, with its steady timbered shores, only a few miles away.

Judge Says Accidents Avoidable

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(AP)—Lexington's new police judge, Thomas J. Ready, who once was a professional mind reader, is bearing down on traffic offenders on the theory all accidents are avoidable.

"If we are careful enough we can stop them," he contends.

In his first month Judge Ready collected more than $4,000 in fines by stringent enforcement of traffic laws.

Court Fails Pass on Security Act

No Decision Is Given on Appeal to Tribunal by George P. Davis

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Supreme Court refused Monday the ruling on the constitutionality of a major part of the federal Social Security act—that levying tax on employers for the benefit of the jobs.

The court declined to pass on an appeal by George P. Davis of Boston, from a recent ruling by the Massachusetts federal district court upholding legislation and dismissing his complaint.

Both Davis and the government urged the Supreme Court to pass on the controversy without waiting for a ruling by the Circuit Court of Appeals—that such a procedure is unusual but sometimes permitted in cases of great public importance.

Pension Bill Prepared

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Representative Ben Cravens, Democrat of Arkansas, said Monday that he would reintroduce in the coming congressional session a bill he sponsored last year to require federal old age pension payments of $15 monthly regardless of state participation in the plan.

Bulletins

VATICAN CITY.—(AP)—Pope Pius gained new strength Monday as pain in his left leg diminished, allowing him a good night's sleep.

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Arkansas Supreme Court reconvened Monday with Chief Justice Griffin Smith presiding over his first session. Fourteen cases were submitted. No decisions were handed down.

Dickinson Death Probe Is Opened

14 Persons Subpoenaed to Appear Before Grand Jury at Spa

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—Fourteen persons, including physicians, police officers and newspapermen were under subpoena to appear at Monday's grand jury investigation into the death of John Dickinson, 32, city jail prisoner.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Roy E. Arney issued the subpoenas after Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin suspended Police Chief Joe Wakelin and three aides pending the probe.

Dickson had been arrested on theft and assault charges. The latter was based on an attack on Chief Wakelin during a hunt last month in Perry county for Dickson and others wanted in connection with local robberies.

The prisoner died in a hospital Christmas Eve from what his death certificate stated was pneumonia. His father, James Dickinson, charged he had been mistreated in the city jail and retained former Circuit Judge Scott Wood to demand a full investigation.

Judge Wood said a post-mortem examination by private physicians showed Dickinson suffered numerous injuries.

Uses Mirror for Portrait

NEW SMYRNA, Fla.—(AP)—Ray E. Brower, artist, is making a life-sized head figure of himself, with the aid of his wife and a mirror. Mrs. Brower made a plaster mold of her husband's head and he is putting the finishing touches on with the aid of a mirror.

Report Crosnoe May Get Pardon

Governor Futrell Cuts Sentence to Make Him Eligible

The Associated Press at Little Rock reported late Monday that Charles C. Crosnoe of Hope, convicted in Bradley county on an arson charge, had been a parole by the state penal board.

Of approximately 300 applications for parole, 34 were granted, one of them to Crosnoe, the Associated Press bureau reported.

Parole Expected

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The state penal board considered Monday approximately 300 applications for parole.

Among the applications was that of Charles Crosnoe of Hope, sentenced to six years for arson in Bradley county in May, 1935.

Governor Futrell commuted his sentence to five years Monday to make Crosnoe eligible for parole.

The executive order commuting his sentence said that Crosnoe is physically incapacitated and required medical attention which cannot be given him at the Tucker prison farm.

High Have Won East

OXFORD, Eng.—(AP)—If the World war had continued for several more years Lawrence of Arabia (Aircraftman T. E. Shaw) might have realized Napoleon's young dream of conquering the east. That at least is the view of Winston Churchill, expressed during the unveiling of a memorial at Oxford high school, where Lawrence was educated.

Fascist Planes in Attack on Northern Sector of Capitol

First Estimates Place Death Toll at 40-100 Are Injured

20 BOMBS DROPPED

Germany Insistent Upon Demands of Spanish "Satisfaction"

MADRID, Spain.—(AP)—Fascist bombing planes flying low over northwest Spain, Madrid, dropped more than 20 bombs on the capitol Monday in a fresh air raid which imperiled refugees in the officially abandoned United States embassy.

First estimates by government officials placed the death toll in the new aerial attack at 40 persons with an additional 100 injured.

Heavy bombs from the insurgent attackers fell only 250 yards from the American embassy.

Germany Backs Demands

BERLIN, Germany.—(AP)—Nazi Germany backed its insistent demand for Spanish marine "satisfaction" with a third show of warship force Monday and laughed at "childish threats" of basque resistance.

Twenty-four hours after it had been made a matter of public knowledge that the government had announced the seizure of the Spanish ship Merchantman Maria Junquera off the northern Spanish coast at noon Sunday by the German cruiser Koenigsberg, officials said brusquely that there would be no details.

Fire in Path of Ships

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Basque government officials at Bilbao, Spain, announced Monday that they were uncovering long-range coast batteries for "practice" fire into the patrol course of two German warships. British shipping was advised to navigate with care.

Italy to Keep Hands Off

LONDON, Eng.—(AP)—Britain asked and won an Italian guarantee to keep "hands off" Spanish territory before clinching the Anglo-Italian Mediterranean treaty, publication of the treaty and notes between the two governments revealed Sunday.

The Mediterranean agreement whereby Britain and Italy agreed to forget animosities over sanctions in the Ethiopian campaign was signed in Rome Sunday.

Ciano Puts It In Writing

Two days before, Italian Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano assured London in answer to a British note: "So far as Italy is concerned, integrity of the present territories of Spain shall in all circumstances remain intact and unmodified."

The Italian government, he said, has not "either before or since the revolution in Spain engaged in any negotiations with Gen. Francisco Franco whereby the status quo of the Western Mediterranean would be altered, nor would it engage in any such negotiations in the future."

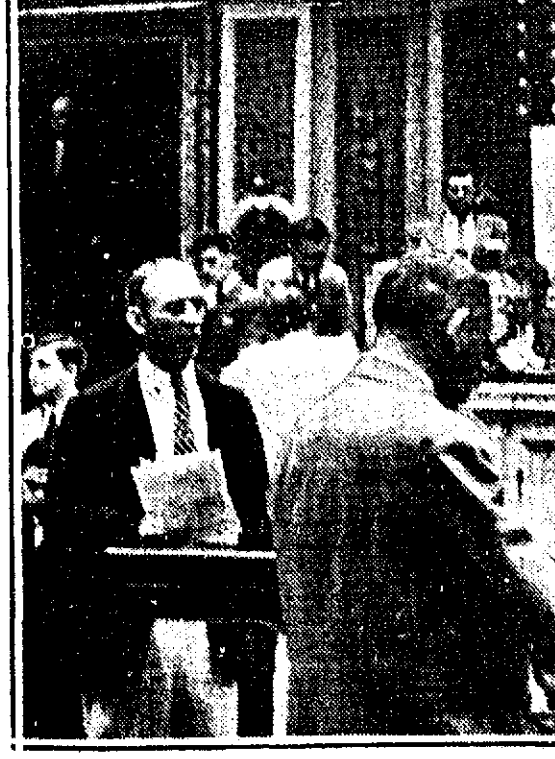

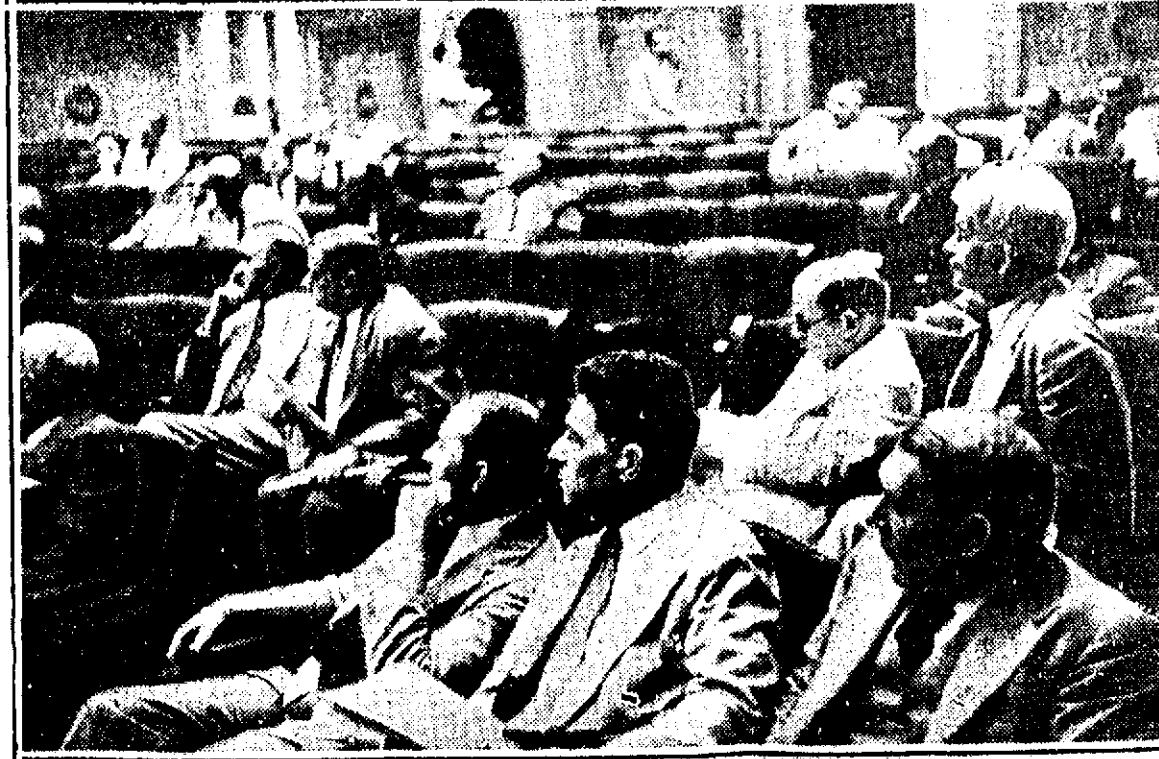

Freedom of Navigation

The text of the Mediterranean treaty revealed that Italy and Britain: "Recognize the freedom of entry into, exit from the transit through the Mediterranean is of vital interest both to different parts of the British empire

When Congress Congregates, Camera Glimpses Solons in Action

Today's Picture Story

Capitol Hill, lazily in the Washington sunshine since the beginning of the presidential campaign, is busy as a beehive again. Secretaries, pages and clerks scurry about. Corridors long silent echo to voters raised in shouted greetings. It's nearly time for the nation's chosen lawmakers to meet as the Seventy-fifth Congress. Then in the halls of the Capitol will be enacted scenes like those pictured here by the candid camera. Always sure of a crowd is the Congressional restaurant (left), where food and opinions are devoured with equal avidity. But, as in left center, where vacant seats speak eloquently, the solons often play hooky, leave the business of routine law making to a desultory quorum that divides its attention between the rostrum, reading and conversation. On days when important legislation is up for consideration, however, the chambers are packed (right center) and the floor is abuzz with challenging voices as members of the House demand recognition. Then, too, pages, clerks and secretaries (extreme right) begin themselves to keep the mills of the law

Infected Tonsils May Cause Other Ailments; Should Be Removed

By DR. MORRIS FISHER
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

It has not been proved that removal of tonsils early in youth will invariably prevent heart disease, infected points, or other manifestations. We know, however, that such ailments may result from infected tonsils or from infections elsewhere in the body. It has been proved that infected tonsils result in such secondary complications sufficiently often to make their removal desirable when infection occurs. Children who have large tonsils or have had diphtheria continue to carry diphtheria germs in their throats after they have recovered. Removal of the tonsils lessens the danger of spreading diphtheria.

Some 15 years ago, 1800 children in Rochester, N. Y., had their tonsils removed when they were 5 or 6 years old. Careful records were kept of these children and of 1800 other children of the same age who did not have their tonsils removed at that time.

A recent comparison showed that sore throat did not occur as frequently or as severely in the children who had their tonsils removed as in those who did not. And the children without tonsils had fewer colds than the others. It was noted, also, that such infectious conditions as diphtheria and scarlet fever were slightly more frequent in those with tonsils than in those without.

The evidence should indicate quite certainly the importance of having tonsils removed when they are infected or enlarged. It is not, however, sufficient to warrant removal of tonsils whether or not they are diseased.

Tonsil operations have been so perfected that they are now conducted with a high degree of safety.

If the child is in a good hospital, if there is suitable arrangement for anesthesia, and if the nursing is adequate, the parents need anticipate little difficulty.

Usually the child will be eating ice cream on the same day on which he was operated, some cereal with milk or cream on the second day, and almost a full diet by the third.

Bedtime Meals Present Problems Anything But Easy to Solve

One of the greatest problems of the average mother is that of feeding her husband to his taste and at the same time putting simple fare on the table for the children.

Father comes home, tired and hungry, having had a snatch lunch, perhaps, and a hurried breakfast. The one meal of the day that he enjoys is his dinner, and he wants it to be good. He has a right to this. Even though gravity is not good for his gall bladder or for his stomach, still and all, that's his business.

Mother's Dilemma

We are speaking of contentment here, not of diets and what not. If he wants to take his chances on a headache, that is something between himself and his doctor. If he is reasonably well, and most people are, you know, then it does seem too bad for him to be set down to gruel and butterless cookies, just because the kids have to have their dinner.

When he tries to give the babies an earlier supper, with cereal, fruit and an egg, but the first thing you know, Papa says he is tired of coming home every night after the fry in bed. So that is changed. And what with two suppers coming at the same time, the result is that the youngsters sit at the feast with their spoons and bibs and yell, "I want some of that." And it's off. Mother tries to compromise between Daddy's appetite and the Nursery Book which says "light suppers" for all young children.

You can't keep them from gobbling all the goodies, once allowed at the big table. They insist on things au gratin, on Thousand Island dressing and hard sauce. And they wake up with furred tongues, not-so-furry dispositions the next morning, and a tummy ache in the bargain. All because no one has the will power to deny them. Maybe the delicacies are fairly innocent, and only such things as beef steak and mashed potatoes are on the menu. But if the children are very small, the continued heavy meal will interfere with sleep and general health.

Denial Won't Hurt Them

What is to be done, then, when Tommy and Tiny and Tagalong all pop down at the evening table laden with rich dishes to gladden Dad's heart? Well, all children must learn that they cannot have all the things to eat, to do, to see or to experience that their elders have.

It is not easy to prepare two sets of dinners (suppers to youngsters), but if their father insists on having them present, as well as his favorite dishes, then it will be necessary to do just this very thing. Or, if Tommy is six or so, maybe Daddy will be satisfied to have him alone, and Tiny and Tag along be stowed away early, after their cereal and soup. As they come up on the door frame, to Tommy's delight, they may be introduced into the dinner circle. But whichever way you decide to work out the problem, it is still best to watch over bedtime meals.

Hollywood Highlights: Taboo on Abdication Story ... Patricia Ziegfeld, Will Jr., Linked in Romance Rumor

HOLLYWOOD—Short takes: The Hays office, which is very careful about averting any offense to the excellent film markets of England and the dominions, has frowned down all plans for pictures on the Edward VIII-Mrs. Simpson theme.

So rigid is the ban that Harold Lloyd has abandoned a story in which he, as a comic commoner, would have married a princess. However, there's a British-made picture, currently being shown in this country, titled "Love in Exile." And Warner Brothers are going ahead with the production of "The King and the Chorus Girl," which is not a parallel, but is suggestive in title.

Also, David Selznick has hired Ronald Colman for "The Prisoner of Zenda," in which a mythical monarch does a bit of abdicating.

Two famous names are linked in a new Hollywood romance—Patricia Ziegfeld and Will Rogers, Jr.

Carole Lombard has a bruised shoulder from blazing away with that hunting rifle Clark Gable brought her.

Greta Garbo looks like a ghost, and her studio is worried.

And, speaking of elderly stars, it's a true story about the leading man who tossed his false teeth from the window of a train. He was a member of a company going on location, and got into a bitter argument on route. During an outburst of fury, his upper plate came loose, and he flipped it through the window. The entire company had to wait 10 days while his Hollywood dentist made and shipped a new set of grinders.

Discordant Tones?

I don't like to help spread such rumors. Nevertheless, the reports are so persistent that Joan Crawford and Franchot Tone are on the verge of separation that they can't be ignored. Now it's said that she is dodging the burbling essayists for fan magazines who want to write about her "happy home life."

One more dismal note—about the screen people who eloped to Yuma, bought a 10-cent wedding ring, and tossed it away after the ceremony. "Just a formality," they said.

On the other hand, gossipers must be disappointed who insist that the Taylor Stanwyck romance is cooling. They went to a preview of the other Biggest Hollywood contributions to the Community Chest this year were made by three feminine stars. Janet Gaynor gave $2000, Sylvia Sydney and Madeline Carroll $1000 each.

Cary Grant is as enthusiastic an autograph hunter as any fan.

Col. Edward Bradley, proprietor of the casino at Palm Beach, Fla., has been looking over the gambling emporiums here in Hollywood and Palm Springs.

Everybody's giving parties for Anna May Wong, back from the Orient. But nobody's offering her a job.

John and Elaine Barrie-more will go on a personal appearance tour. And that's the height of something or other.

For a scene in "Womanwise," Astrid Allwyn had to smash a guitar over Paul McVey's head. But they took the scene five times, ruined five guitars, and gave McVey (he says) five headaches.

Some of the negroes who remained here after the filming of "The Green Pastures" have formed a film company to make pictures for negro trade. George Randol, who was O' King Pharaoh in the play, is president. He has also written the first script for filming a story about the Harlem numbers racket.

The gaiety of the Christmas party at "Thunder Mesa," the de luxe hacienda in New Mexico, has a tragic ending when PEARL JOHN, oldest of three brothers, is found dead with a knife in his throat.

Each of the de Forest brothers has the first name "Pearl." As a family they cling to traditions seldom seen outside. PEARL JOHN, the youngest brother, PEARL PIERRE next, and the oldest, the house are TANTE JOSEPHINE, old and an invalid. In one life nobly lived forever lies Prophecy and promise that light all darker things,
 Fate made holy, sorrow given wings.
 Therein is answer to all doubts that find
 No vision where the Truth may be divined.
 Therein Love writes a fair eternal word
 For hope that longs, but has not seen nor heard.
 We need no more than one life's noble years
 To know that Love outlasts all hurt and tears,
 That in its days all needed proof is given
 Of love and trust that link our earth to heaven.—Selected.

Conference Cage Race Begins This Week

Razorbacks to Be Opposed by Baylor

Porkers, Defending Champions, Will Open Season at Fayetteville

DALLAS, Texas.—(AP)—Seven Southwest Conference basketball quintets, crowded to the background by late season football games, dip into official play this week.

The Baylor Golden Bears goes the initial task of stopping the University of Arkansas' string of wins in the stand-out battles of the week's games.

Semi-finalists in the Oklahoma City invitation tourney, Baylor travels to Fayetteville, Ark., for games Friday and Saturday night with the Razorbacks, defending champions and favored to repeat after their rousing Sugar Bowl triumph over the University of Tennessee. Southeastern Conference titlists.

Don Lockhard and Gilliland, leading scorers of the Porker five last year, led the rout of the Tennesseans and it was this pair that Coach Ralph Wolfe's charges planned to stop.

First game of the schedule finds Texas A. & M. bumping into Coach Jimmy Kitts' Rice Institute power-house at Houston Wednesday night. The Aggies, with Dale Freiburger, lanky junior college transfer, Ed Lee and Pete Bowling, as their biggest scoring threats, meet a Rice team that fared well in early season games before taking an enforced layoff because of examinations.

Erratic in early games but showing scoring punch, the University of Texas invades North Texas for a pair of games over the week-end. Texas Christian, weakened in practice games because the bulk of its squad was still engaged in football antics, must whip the late starters into shape before the Longhorns visit Fort Worth Friday night.

Sammy Baugh, grid hero, will take his first cage workout Monday but Willie Walls, down with malaria fever and a football injury, may not crack the lineup for several weeks.

Texas moves to Dallas Saturday night to meet a Southern Methodist team that has won but one game but impressed fans even though losing four others by slight margins.

J. D. Norton, Billy Dowell, lanky football end, and Bill Blanton carry the burden of Methodist basket tossing duties but Coach James St. Clair has promised a surprise in Kenneth Goodson, wiry football halfback.

laws, and improve farm tenancy conditions.

The reciprocal trade laws must be extended, but no general tariff revision is in sight.

Scheduled Early

Senator Robinson was questioned at length about a constitutional amendment. He said an "amendment may prove necessary" and that the problem would "receive consideration early in the session."

He said he was not prepared to discuss the O'Mahoney bill to require federal charters for corporations, or any other specific proposals for dealing with the wage and hour problem, but that "a number of measures" had impressed him as "worthy of consideration."

"I am strictly inclined to the opinion," he added, that a well considered constitutional amendment may prove the best method. To me it is a very unsatisfactory condition that neither states nor federal government should have the power to prescribe maximum hours and minimum wages.

"It is my thought that the power should be established either in the states or in the congress and that the decisions of the Supreme Court preclude effective legislation without an amendment."

"Admittedly, such an amendment would provoke much debate and require a considerable time. I do not preclude myself from supporting any legislation which I may become convinced will make possible the reasonable control by public authority over the subject matter of maximum hours and minimum wages."

No Particular Plan

Mr. Robinson said he had no amendment in mind relating to the power of the court "that I intend to advance" unless it should be in connection with a broader amendment such as the one he had already discussed. But Robinson said it was his belief "something should be done" about the wage and hour question.

"It is incomprehensible," he added, "that there is no public authority to protect women or children, or men, from working any number of hours their employers want."

"I don't hesitate to say the decision of the Supreme Court on minimum wages and maximum hours was erroneous and ought to be reversed and that is the judgment of the bar. The decision in the New York minimum wage law was bad law. But it is binding, of course, and I am making no attack on the court."

Foy H. Hammons, Producer of Championship Teams, Begins His 18th Year As Coach

By LEONARD ELLIS

At the age of 43, Coach Foy Hammons of Hope, begins his 18th year as an athletic coach in Arkansas.

His coaching career, started in 1919 at his alma mater, Jonesboro A. M. college. Since then championships have had a habit of following Hammons around.

The mild-mannered coach of the Hope High School Bobcats began his title collecting a quarter century ago as a student in Little Rock High School.

It was back in 1910 when he was a student in high school that Hammons first engaged in athletics. He lettered in football, basketball, track and baseball.

The next year he repeated by lettering in the four major sports: football, basketball, track and baseball. That year Little Rock won state championships honors in basketball. Hammons was a star on the team, holding down center position.

Star in College

In 1913 Hammons went to Jonesboro A. & M. college as a student, lettering in four major sports for three consecutive years. Jonesboro was college champions in basketball two years and Hammons played center.

In 1915 Hammons was selected as the all-state fullback. At that time the University of Arkansas was included in the all-state college selections.

Leaving Jonesboro, Hammons went to the University of Indiana where he was captain of the freshman football team and was sub-captain of the freshman baseball squad.

He left the University of Indiana in 1917 to enter the World war where he served 22 months. After obtaining his honorable discharge from the army, Hammons took a fling at professional baseball, breaking in with Columbia, S. C. club in what was then known as the South Atlantic league.

Hammons had the misfortune of fracturing his foot playing baseball that summer and became discouraged. He gave up his pro career as a diamond star.

First Coaching Job

In 1919 Hammons returned to his alma mater as head coach at Jonesboro A. & M. college. His first year at Jonesboro his football team whipped Ouachita college, 14 to 13, in what went into the records that year as the biggest upset in Arkansas college football.

He was coach at Jonesboro three years, 1919, 1920 and through the spring of 1921. In football his team won 8 and lost 6. In basketball his teams won 16 and lost 2. In baseball his teams won 5 and lost 5.

Hammons stepped into his real championship stride in the fall of 1921 when he became coach of Pine Bluff High School. There he coached through 1926, tutoring football, basketball and track teams.

His Zebra football teams won a total of 38 games, lost only four and tied two.

Won National Title

He coached the Zebras to three state football championships and one national title. His teams were state champs in 1921, 1922 and 1925. The 1925 grid team was the greatest he ever produced, winning the national title that year.

A Dayton, Ohio, high school football team, a school that hadn't lost a game in five years, challenged Hammons for the national title. A post-season game was arranged. It was played at Pine Bluff. The score: Pine Bluff 61; Dayton 0.

In basketball at Pine Bluff, Hammons' teams won a total of 110 games and lost 26. His senior teams were state champions in 1922, 1925 and 1928. The 1925 and '28 teams were tri-state champions.

Hammons also enjoyed great success in track at Pine Bluff, winning state championships in 1922, 1923 and 1924. In '24 he took the track team to Chicago and came out fifth in a nation field meet in which 38 states of the union were represented.

Goes To Ouachita College

Because of his remarkable record at Pine Bluff, college offers beckoned to Hammons. He left Pine Bluff in the spring of 1926 and went to Ouachita college as head athletic coach where he remained through the spring of 1931.

His football teams at Ouachita won 31 games, lost six and tied three. He won two state college grid championships.

His basketball teams at Ouachita won 59 and lost 33.

In track he coached Ouachita to three state titles, and to two baseball championships.

Hammons went to Monticello A. & M. college in the summer of 1931 and remained there until the summer of 1934. At Monticello his football teams won 16 and lost 9 games. In basketball his teams won 42 and lost 18. He coached the Bollweevils to two baseball titles.

Hammons came to Hope in 1934. His Bobcat football teams have won 24 games, lost 8 and tied one. In basketball the Bobcats, under Hammons, have won 26 games, one district title, and lost 7.

The past season was Hammons' best year in football at Hope, winning nine, losing one and tying one. The 12 to 7 DeQueen victory spoiled Hammons' chance of bringing the school its first state championship.

Also Had Disappointments

While Hammons has had much success—he also has encountered disappointments. His three biggest ones are ranked in this order.

1. He brought up a great Pine Bluff team to Little Rock several years ago, doped to win by more than 50 points. Pine Bluff lost, 3 to 0, the defeat costing him the championship.

2. Ouachita college beat Hammons, 14 to 13, while Hammons was coach at Monticello. His Aggie team had out-played Ouachita throughout the game. There was but two minutes left and the Bollweevils were leading. Then came a fumble. A Ouachita man scooped up the ball and ran for touchdown. That fumble cost the Aggie team and Hammons the championship.

3. The past year Hammons' Bobcat team advanced to the next-to-the last game unbeaten, doped to beat DeQueen by a decisive score. The game ended in DeQueen's favor, 12 to 7, again cheating Hammons out of a possible state title.

Had Many Big Thrills

Hammons' greatest thrill was when he won the national school-boy football title for Pine Bluff in 1925, beating Dayton, Ohio, 61 to 0.

Other thrills were when Ouachita beat Hendrix, 14 to 13, in an exciting football game. Another thrill was when his Pine Bluff track team beat Little Rock, 41 to 10, the last ever deciding the field meet and the state championship.

Hammons has produced many great athletes. Probably Billy Hicks of Pine Bluff and University of Alabama fame was his greatest performer. And then there was "Fightin' Mac" McGibbony of Pine Bluff—and many others.

Besides a great athletic director, Hammons is a fine teacher of character. Here's success for 1937 Hammons' 18th year as an athletic coach.

Arkansas Schools Open Cage Season

State Teachers, Hendrix, Arkansas, Tech, Have Games This Week

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—A card of five games sends the 1937 Arkansas inter-collegiate and Southwest Conference basketball title chases off to a flying start this week-end.

At Fayetteville, the University of Arkansas' Razorbacks, minute three star members of their 1936 Southwest Conference title outfit, begin the defense of their own crown against the Baylor University Bears in Friday and Saturday night engagements. Missing from the Razorback lineup this season will be H. L. (Kee) Poole, Jim Lee Howell and Ken Landry.

The Porkers dropped a close one to the Brown Paper Millers at Monroe, La., Saturday night, 29 to 31, to spoil a perfect early season record. Previously, they had won four straight from Drake, Southeastern, Oklahoma Teachers and Tennessee.

The Arkansas State Teachers' College Bears, with four exhibition victories to their credit, wait until next week before launching a campaign in defense of their state title.

Coach Ivan Grove sends his Hendrix Warriors against a dark horse Magnolia A. & M. outfit at Conway Friday night. The following night the Warriors go to Jonesboro for a test of Arkansas State's Indians.

Arkansas Tech's Wonder Boys begin their inter-collegiate schedule against Arkansas College at Batesville Saturday night.

Baer Plans to Regain Heavyweight Championship He Lost in 1935

SAN LEANDRO, Cal.—(AP)—Max Baer, former world's heavyweight champion would like a return bout with Joe Louis.

Baer, who lost his crown to Jim Braddock and later was knocked out by Louis, will leave in a few weeks for London and a bout with either Walter Neusel or Ben Ford.

If he wins there he plans to return on the comeback trail for the championship he lost in 1935.

shots will be brought back in this manner, for shots heretofore played with clubs the golfer leaves behind him will have to be played by restricting the swing.

Fourteen clubs in the ordinary bag weigh 25 pounds. Bags vary in weight, dependent upon size, quality, and number of balls and the accessories carried, but Light-Horse Cooper's kit of 30 clubs must scale in the neighborhood of 52 pounds.

Soap Salesman to Face Grand Jury

I. L. Ziebart Held in Probe of State Capitol Supplies

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—Prosecutor Fred A. Donham said Sunday night that he would bring before the Pulaski county grand jury convening Tuesday charges lodged against I. L. Ziebart, 44, Little Rock soap salesman, of obtaining money under false pretenses, in connection with the state capital janitor supply purchases.

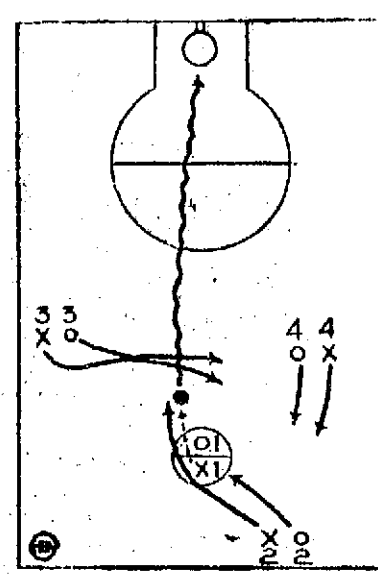

He returned to Little Rock Sunday night from Dallas, where Ziebart was arrested Friday when he called at a hotel for mail. The prisoner was taken immediately to the county jail.

Donham said that he "imagined" Ziebart will appear before the grand jury. He charged that Ziebart was connected with the sale of between $50,000 and $60,000 in soap and janitor supplies for the capital. Secretary of State Ed F. McDonald is under indictment on charges of accepting bribes in connection with an investigation of the purchases.

Accountant Gayle Windor of the state comptroller's office and Detective Sergeant H. R. Peterson of the Little Rock police accompanied Donham to and from the Texas city. They left here Friday immediately after receiving word of the arrest.

HOOPING IT UP

Forwards Clear Path For Guard to Take Shot at Basket

By HOWARD CANN

NEW YORK.—A center play that puts a guard in scoring position depends upon the offensive forwards maneuvering their defensive men out of the way. The above play illustrates this point.

At the top, X-3 moves to the right of the court as if to take the tap, luring his guard in that direction. The other forward, X-4, moves toward the backcourt, taking his guard along.

This leaves X-2, who has eluded his opponent, plenty of room to take the tap from the center, X-1, and move up to the basket for a shot.

Former Iowa Mentor to Succeed Vic Hansen at Grid Post

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—(AP)—Ossie Solem, for the past four years athletic director and head football coach at the University of Iowa, was named Saturday to succeed Victor A. Hansen, who resigned after a disastrous season.

Showing Old Hockey Fight

As Panthers Drove to Victory in Rose Bowl

This was the sort of steam-roller drive which carried Pittsburgh's Golden Panthers to a 21-0 victory over Washington's Huskies in the Rose Bowl tournament at Pasadena. Frank Patrick, No. 24, is shown in the first quarter as he hurled himself over an opponent to leave the ball on Washington's line. The Panther fullback scored on the next play, and made another touchdown in the third quarter. An capacity crowd of 87,000 witnessed the which the Huskies had been favored to win. It was Pittsburgh's first Rose Bowl triumph in four trips to California.

STORIES IN STAMPS

By I. S. Klein

PHOENIX OF SPAIN

TWENTY-ONE volumes of epics, sonnets, pastorals, and other forms of verse, and more than 1500 plays, came from the pen of the great Spanish dramatist, Lope Felix de Vega y Carpio, contemporary of the great Cervantes and Shakespeare. Yet this genius had time to take part in an expedition to the Azores and in the decisive battle in which the Spanish Armada was destroyed by the British fleet, and to embroil himself in numerous love affairs.

Lope de Vega produced his dramas and poems in such quick succession that Cervantes called him a "monster of nature." His admirers, however, refer to him as the "phoenix of Spain," paragon of excellence and beauty.

After the death of his second wife, he entered a monastery, continuing to write until his death. When he heard that his son, Lope, had died and his daughter had eloped, it is said he scourged himself so ruthlessly that the walls of his cell became stained with blood. He died in 1635, aged 73, and 300 years later Spain issued a set of stamps in his memory. One is shown here.

Nevada Oil Field Is Slowed by Rain

But Operators Prepare for Action During Current Week

PRESCOTT, Ark.—While activities in the Nevada county oil field generally were slowed down last week by two days' heavy rainfall, Charles Steele and Bryan Warmack closed the old well by bailing in their William Haynie No. 1 on the edge of the Irma, W. Waterloo field in the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of northwest quarter of section 6-14-20. Casing was set last Monday at the 1178-foot level just six feet in the Nacatosh sand, and on New Year's eve, after four hours of bailing, oil free of water stood 700 feet in the hole, making a producer good for 200 barrels on the pump. This well will be placed on the beam at once when the derrick will be skidded 75 feet north, and another test started by Steele and Warmack on the same lease.

C. B. & F. Petroleum Company set casing at a depth of 1,180 feet Wednesday night in their William Haynie No. 1 on the John R. Lewis lease in the southwest corner of southwest quarter of northeast quarter of Section 5-14-20, four feet in the Nacatosh sand. Plug will be drilled and bailing Monday should determine whether this test will result in an extension of the old Waterloo field. The test is causing more interest in the field than any other as its completion as a producer will draw the two fields closer together. Drillers and scouts who examined the core from the Nacatosh in this well say it was saturated with oil. The oil sand was encountered at the usual depth of the Waterloo field. The test is a half-mile east of production in the Waterloo field and about two miles northwest from the Benedum-Trees Oil Company discovery well in north half of the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of Section 10-14-20.

Deep Test Continues
The deep test of Benedum-Trees Oil Company, in their Lily Block No. 1, in the northeast corner of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 9-14-20, continues to attract attention. Last week, the Nacatosh sand was cased off, although more than 500 feet of oil stood in the hole, and Thursday of this week, cores were taken from the Tokio sand at the 2,200-foot level. Indications are this sand, though saturated with oil, will be cased off and drilling continue to the Travis Peak or Persian Lime sand expected to be encountered at a depth of 2,600 feet, or possibly the Glen Rose at about 4,200 feet. No official announcement was forthcoming this week. It is known, however, this test was started with the intention of going to the 3,600-foot sand, carry out an agreement by the company with land owners that a test was to be drilled that depth.

The Glasco No. 1, on the Ritchie lease, in the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter of Section 10-14-20, which was placed on the beam last week and pronounced good for 250 barrels of oil a first of the week, but this is gradually clearing up under the personal supervision of Mr. Glasco, who for two days operated his pump on the lowest speed possible. The well is free of water and gives promise of being one of the best producers in the field. Everything is on the ground for Glasco's No. 2 on the same lease, which will be started soon, and permits have been issued for Tests Nos. 3 and 4 on the same tract.

Oil Town's Appearance
Despite the holiday season and heavy rain this week, Benedum & Trees Oil Company has increased the number of its employees, and the new oil field is fast taking on the appearance of a village. Lumber is on the ground for several homes for employees, scores of metal tanks for oil storage have been constructed and more are being hauled in. Ground has been cleared and foundation laid for the erection of the largest oil storage tank in Nevada county, a 55,000-barrel metal tank. Perry Asphalt Company has bought the right-of-way for a pipeline from the Benedum & Trees leases to their refinery at Waterloo and the laying of pipe will begin next week. The heavy rains caused a cessation of hauling of oil in trucks and Benedum & Trees producers were closed down for two days because all storage tanks were full. E. H. Weaver, who on New Year's Day relinquished the office of Nevada county judge to J. W. Bradley, has obtained a ground lease on five acres of the Benedum & Trees leases, and will erect a general store. Several stores have been constructed within the past month. Judge Weaver contemplates plotting a part of his lease for a townsite. Scores of workmen have been engaged the past week in clearing land in the new field and 14 steel derricks can be seen by visitors.

Lightning does more good than harm. Each year it produces tons of fixed nitrogen which greatly aids vegetation when added to the soil.

A Peace Omen for the Americas

Evidence that the "good neighbor" spirit between the Americas is being expanded by the journey of President Roosevelt and other U. S. statesmen to the Buenos Aires peace conference is provided in this photo. ## Rush Holt Is New Bad Boy of Senate

Canceling of His Patronage Follows Attack on F. D. Administration

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—Well, it seems that Rush Holt, the Peck's bad boy of the senate, has been whipped—whipped in one of the several ways a senator can be whipped by his party colleagues—having his petty patronage cut off. It must have left the West Virginian in a sorely depressed frame of mind. Perhaps he will abdicate and rush for solace to the hills of Western Austria, doing penance meantime by reading a share of the Sunday service. Long ago he began cutting up about patronage, and the result, so he vehemently told the senate, was that even more of his patronage in West Virginia was cut off in favor of his colleague, Senator Neely. Now comes the coup de grace. Two elevator boys and a capital policeman (the lads usually hold the jobs while they go to school) will lose their jobs.

School boys favored by some of the newer and more patient senators will get the job of running the elevators and, in the case of the policeman, telling visitors where not to park automobiles.

Fly-Swating Gesture
The word came from the unofficial committee on senate patronage, which explained that Holt "sweats comfort, if not aid, to those who were seeking to defeat the Democratic national ticket, and also opposed the election of a Democrat to the United States senate." In his campaign against Neely's reelection, Holt insisted he had a better record of Roosevelt support than his colleague. For his own election in 1934 he campaigned on a 100-per-cent-Roosevelt platform. Besides opposing Neely, Holt emphasized his independence by keynoting Father Coughlin's social justice convention in Cleveland and by conferring with Governor Landon during the campaign.

There is no doubt about it, Holt has been a naughty boy in his party relations and not much help legislatively speaking. He introduced only one measure last session and that was to request an investigation of the WPA in West Virginia. But to some disinterested observers, cutting off his senate patronage seemed a sort of fly-swating gesture. Even the recalcitrant Huey Long, who cut 10 times the figure of young Holt, kept his senate patronage. A capital policeman he chose, held his job all during the time Huey was barking the shins of fellow senators and even going after the prince of patronage princes, Postmaster General Farley.

Own Worst Enemy
After all, Holt has been his own most formidable antagonist. By filibustering against the Guffey coal bill he alienated the coal miner support that helped elect him in 1934. Instead of making a record as a liberal in the senate he plowed out a pile of his West Virginia troubles and sought to market them on the senate floor as a national issue. Where his colleagues might have left him alone as a troublesome but persistent.
